Some women barbers in Philadelphia offer hair-cuts at two cents each, not each hair, but each head. This is a pretty heavy cut at the men barbers.

If Governor Pennypacker, of Pennsylvania, should want to run for Governor again wouldn't the papers of that State pile the wet blankets on him.

An Oklahoma man who sank a well for water didn't get water, but he got a stratum of red lead, which only requires oil to make a capital paint. He has enough of it to paint the whole Territory red.

That young woman who with her husband went to the World's fair dedication at St. Louis, and complains that they had to pay a dollar apiece for sandwitches, didn't see anything fair in that. The next time they go they will probably take their sandwiches with them.

The next thing the Chicago Tribune will tackle is the 13 hoodoo. It has gone to investigating and finds that there is nothing at all in the tradition about Friday being an unlucky dog, but asserts that more good things and fewer bad happen on that day than on any other day in the week.

The Legislature of New York has adopted an amendment to the State constitution providing for the expenditure of $50,000,000 on good road making, $5,000,000 a year for ten years, on condition that the counties through which the roads run spend a like amount. With $100,000,000 judiciously expended that State ought to have good roads at the end of ten years.

I. armory and it is always open on the 19th of each month for the inspection of visitors.

The Entertainment Committee, through its chairman, Mrs. Frank L. Huggins, reported all arrangements complete in connection with the benefit for the W. L. I. at Lake Waccamaw to-day and a number of the ladies will be in attendance upon the celebration.

The Membership Committee, through its chairman, Mrs. Gaston Meares, reported the names of Miss Mary Shepard and Mrs. James Sinclair and they were unanimously elected.

Mrs. Jno. T. Rankin, chairman of the Memorial Committee, reported the recent very appropriate and successful observance of Memorial Day and the committee received the thanks of the Chapter.

IN BLUE AND WHITE.

Beautiful Marriage Ceremony in St. James' Episcopal Church Yesterday Evening.

MANY WEDDING GUESTS.

Miss Jane Green Harriss Became the Bride of Mr. Philip Warland Delano, United States Navy—Reception and Bridal Tour.

Saint James' Episcopal church, the scene of many a lovely marriage ceremony, was never more beautiful nor thronged with a more fashionable assemblage of guests than on yesterday evening at 6 o'clock when Miss Jane Green Harriss, the attractive and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Nehemiah Harriss, of this city, was led to the hymeneal altar by Mr. Philip Warland Delano, United States Navy, and they were made husband and wife according to the beautiful rites of the Episcopal church, the Rev. Richard W. Hogue, rector of the parish, officiating.

The church had been beautifully decorated with a wealth of palms, ferns, bamboo and cut flowers and was softly lighted by numerous candelabra and electrics. While the guests were assembling, Mr. James Charles Craft, the organist, skilfully rendered a programme of appropriate music, embracing "I Love Thee" and an intermezzo from "Cavaleira Rusticana." At the hour appointed for the service, the bridal party entered to tuneful strains from Lohengrin.

First came the beautiful little ribbon girls, Miss Essie Exum Harriss, sister of the bride, and Miss Helen Williams, cousin of the bride, both charmingly costumed in white batiste with blue ribbons. They gracefully took their position at the chancel, and next entered the bridal party down the main aisle in the following order: Lieutenant Paul E. Chamberlin, U. S. Marine Corps, first groomsman; Messrs. Jno. VanB. Metts, Charles F. Green, H. G. Latimer, Jr., Dr. Thos. M. Green, Mr. Jno. B. Peschau, Mr. Frank G. Harriss, Mr. W. Holden Weeks, of New York, and Mr. Marsden Bellamy, Jr., groomsmen; Miss Katherine Harriss, sister of the bride, first bridesmaid; Miss Lizzie Cotchett, Miss Fannie Green, Miss Nellie Emerson, Miss Alice Borden, Miss Janie Williams, Miss Marie Peschau, Miss Marie Baldwin and Miss Louise Neave, of Salisbury, bridesmaids; Miss Carrie Harriss, sister of the bride, maid of honor; the bride with her father, Mr. George N. Harriss.

The first groomsman entered alone and the other groomsmen came in pairs. The first bridesmaid also came alone, and the other bridesmaids followed in pairs, with the maid of honor alone and the bride with her father. The groom with his best man, Capt. James C. Breckenridge, U. S. Marine Corps, both in full dress uniform of the navy, entered the vestry room and joined the attendants at the chancel. There a graceful arrangement was formed about the altar and the solemn words were spoken by the rector, the scene being one of rare beauty and solemnity.

It was a blue and white wedding and the effect was charming.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of white Liberty satin and carried a lovely bouquet of white carnations with a shower of lilies of the valley. Her veil was caught with a brooch of pearls and diamonds, with orange blossoms.

The maid of honor, Miss Carrie Harriss, was charmingly costumed in blue mouseline de soie and carried a bouquet of bride's roses.

Miss Katherine Harriss, the first bridesmaid, wore a becoming costume of white mouseline de soie and carried bride roses. The other bridesmaids were similarly attired with sashes of blue.

The male attendants from the navy wore the regulation full dress uniform of the service, while the others were dressed in the conventional black.

The ceremony over the party left the church to the inspiring music of Mendelssohn's Wedding March and repaired to the home of the bride's parents, No. 108 South Fifth street, where a brief but very elegant reception was held. Mr. and Mrs. Delano received in the northeast corner of the parlors, beneath a large United States flag, while the other decorations consisted of bamboo, palms, ferns and flowers with a neat and artistic arrangement of miniature silk flags of other nations visited by Lieut. Delano during his extensive travels.

Among those in the party of guests for the wedding and reception were Capt. and Mrs. Francis H. Delano, of Portsmouth, N. H., parents of the groom. Capt. Delano is also of the United States Navy and has a long and distinguished career in the service.

The wedding gifts were very numerous and exceedingly handsome. Many were from a distance, attesting the popularity of the young people at home and abroad. Many congratulatory telegrams were received yesterday evening from a distance.

Following the reception last evening, Mr. and Mrs. Delano left on the northbound A. C. L. train, 'mid a shower of rice and hearty good wishes, for Washington, D. C., which will be their home for the present. Capt. and Mrs. Delano accompanied the young people, returning to New Hampshire.

Monday evening the wedding party was entertained at dinner by Mrs. J. A. Arringdale and later the party was entertained at cards at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Divine. This afternoon the party will be guests for a delightful trolley party to the beach.

W. L. I. SEMI-CENTENNIAL.

Excursion to Lake Waccamaw on Special Train This Morning—Refreshments by Daughters of Confederacy.

Indications are that the weather will be most favorable to-day for an outing, and it is expected that the semi-centennial celebration of the Wilmington Light Infantry at Lake Waccamaw will be one of the most pleasant and largely attended events of similar character in the history of the city. The Infantry and friends will leave Wilmington this morning at 8:30 o'clock on a special train of ten cars for the Lake, and the day's programme of events will serve to give everybody a good time.

Baseball, tennis, boating and the annual shoot for the company's medal, now held by Corporal Allen Huggins, will be among the features. The train will leave the Lake at 6 P. M., and arrive here on the return a short time thereafter. All school children will be taken for half price. All children who desire to go will be excused by their teachers. The regular fare is $1 for the round trip.

Not the least pleasant feature of the occasion will be the serving of refreshments by the Daughters of the Confederacy. The Entertainment Committee of the Chapter is in charge and Mrs. Frank L. Huggins, the chairman, has appointed the following subcommittee to serve: Mrs. Martin S. Willard, Mrs. John James, Mrs. R. W. Wallace, Mrs. C. C. Brown, Mrs. Joe Smith, Mrs. J. J. Hedrick, Mrs. H. J. WILMINGTON, N. C.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, MAY 20.

THE NEGRO NORTH AND SOUTH.

The Northern press has recently been giving more attention to the negro than ever before, in a very different way, too, from the attention heretofore given him. They are discussing the question more frankly than in years past, and are making admissions (which appear to be the result of recent discovery) which few of them would have made a few years ago. They have discovered, or seem to have discovered, that the negro does not stand such a good chance to earn a livelihood in the North as in the South, and is not as welcome a comer as one would suppose, in view of the fact that that section is demonstrated by a party which professes to believe in the "man and the brother." A change has come over the spirit of their dreams, for they do not believe so much in "the man and the brother" as they once did, or pretended to believe.

Whether this change has been brought about by closer contact with the negro, since so many have been drifting northward, and congregating in the cities, or is the result of the revived agitation of the negro rights question, and the rabid speeches made by some of the negro leaders, we don't know; perhaps it is due to both, but the fact remains that the negro question is now discussed in a very different vein from that in which it used to be discussed and in a decidedly more sensible vein. The discussion is doing good too, for it is educating the Northern people on that question, and giving them more toleration for the people of the South, who have been confronted by it for years in a way that the Northern people never have been and probably never will be for if it ever threatens to become a troublesome question with them they will adopt preventive measures in time.

As showing how this question is now viewed by some of the leading Northern papers, we quote the following extract from an editorial in Harper's Weekly, which in years gone by was a strong advocate of negro rights and a harsh critic of the South:

It is, in truth, only at the South that the negro since the civil war has had an industrial opportunity, or can look forward to an industrial future. At the North he is barred by race prejudice from almost every field of skilled labor, and is relegated for the most part to menial occupations, or to the rudest kind of manual toil. At the South every channel of skilled industry has always been, and is now, open to him. There alone is given to the negro a man's chance in the commercial world. Here at the North we let negroes vote, but we shut them out of our factories, shutting our eyes to the truth that the fundamental need of the mass of mankind is an opportunity to earn a living by doing productive work. * * * It is only at the South that the negroes have an opportunity of becoming operatives, artisans and miners, and of thus lifting themselves above the dead level of manual labor.

This everybody in the South knows but everybody in the North does not know, for there may still be people up there as there have been in years past who are under the impression the only place in the South for the negro as a worker is on the plantations, and there not because the Southern man wants him but because he cannot get along without him, and even then he must be mighty good, humble and toe the mark at the risk of being perforated with bullets. That was the idea of a good many people in the North some years ago, but they seem to have gotten pretty generally over that.

The following, somewhat on the same line, is taken from an editorial in Collier's Weekly, which has recently given much attention to the negro question:

The negro's salvation is to come from work. Northern adventurers wronged him equally with his white neighbor when they turned his attention to social equality and political rights, when his first proper task was to make himself a useful and necessary part of the community in which he lived. Industrially, the negro has found the South more friendly than the North. The Southerner is glad to see him in almost any useful employment, where the North allows him to do little except to carry dishes and shine boots. We shall do well to bother ourselves very little about the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments and contribute what we can afford of our superior wealth to the educational facilities of the poorer South. We are beginning to understand, also, that the education which teaches a negro to make boots is better than the education which tells him what is the capital of Switzerland or who was the author of "Marmion." Nothing is more upsetting, more shallow and deleterious than "accomplishments"—mental acquisition which rests on no solid foundation of usefulness and necessity.

There is a pretty close agreement in the way these two Northern publications size up this question. The writer of this extract was right when he said the negro's salvation is to come from work. The race should not expect success in any other way, for no other race has ever achieved success without work, and hard work. The white man has succeeded and forged to the front of all the other races—the black, the brown, the red, the yellow, and the mongrels because it is a working race, and works with both hand and head. The negro must learn to work, not with the hand only but with the brain and he should not think, as so many do, that education with him means learning how to work the more confiding of his own race.

He was right, too, when he said that "the education which teaches a negro to make boots" is better than the education which teaches him stuff that will never be of any practical service to him in aiding him to earn his bread and meat or to get a foothold on the land. There is entirely too much talk about the higher education, the accomplishments, for people who would have no use for them after they got them.

Of course it is well to educate negroes who have capacity and talent for teachers, preachers, doctors, etc. in all of which callings they may be useful and helpful to their people, but for the mass of negroes who have to work with the hand if they learn to read and write and figure, that is as much education as they will ever have use for and if supplemented with education of the hand will be enough. If they want more and are ambitious to get it, let them hustle and get it as white people do, by earning and saving their money to pay for it. When they do that they will be more apt to appreciate the education they get and turn it to good account.

CONDONING MURDER AND SAVAGERY.

Persecution of Jews in Russia is no uncommon thing; murder of Jews by Russian mobs, plundering them of their property and driving them out of the towns are no uncommon things. Persecution is so common and so frequent, the surprising thing is that Jews would desire or try to live in such a country. One of the most shocking and blood curdling stories of "Christian" savagery is the report of the recent awful, ruthless and indiscriminate butchery of Jews—men, women and children—the recital of which is so horrid as to stagger belief, at Kisheneff, in Southern Russia, where two hundred or more fell victims to the blood-thirsty, merciless mob, and it does not appear that any effort was made by the authorities to prevent it, but it is said, on the contrary, that some of the officials egged on the mob and participated in the butchery.

The Russian Ambassador at Washington, instead of being horrified at the recital of the awful outrage on humanity, apologizes for it, condones it, and virtually excuses or defends it, on the ground that the mob was not attacking Jews as Jews but Jews as money lenders, for it seems according to him that the Jews persist in living in the towns, will not go on the farms to work, and when one of them "gets a couple dollars" he starts a bank and becomes a banker or money broker, and with his two dollar bank soon gets the poor peasants in his power and ruins them, and then the peasants go for them. The little Jew banker who lends money to the peasants, becomes a fit subject for persecution and butchery, but the big Jew banker who lends money to the Government, to the nobility, the railroads, &c., is respected and can live in Russia without fear of being jumped on by the mob and murdered.

Ambassador Cassini should be ashamed to invent such a transparent and ridiculous fake as that as an apology for and justification of a massacre that every Russian ought to regard as a disgrace to his country. Cassini has added to the disgrace by his effort to condone the butchery of men, women and children, and babies in their mothers' arms. It wasn't simply killing, but killing with torture and fiendish mutilation, too horrid for belief, which seemed to be necessary to satiate the vengeance of these bloodthirsty butchers.

"HELLO, TEDDY!"

Mr. Roosevelt is having the time of his life in his Western jaunt. In addition to taking in the assorted multitudes whom he meets and who greet him, he has taken in the two great reserves, or parks—the Yellowstone and the Yosemite—in the former of which he had plenty of opportunity to frolic in the snow and to study the wild critters; and in the latter of which he could admire the glorious trees and was favored with an impromptu snow storm. He was without a tent, too, and passed "one of the pleasantest nights of his life." That's what he told the people after he came down from the high hills, the pines and the firs and the snow.

It is a pity that such a panoramic layout should have been marred and that anything should have occurred to vex the spirit of the illustrious tourist, and that, too, before he had gotten out of sight of the grandeur which filled him with extatic delight, and all because a small boy, unmindful of the deference due a President of these United States, familiarly saluted him as he proudly rode through the village, with "Hello, Teddy!" That was too much for him, for according to the press dispatch, he broke line, rode right up to the offending culprit, "the dignity of the President gone, and in its place the severity of the parent," and read that boy, a surprised boy no doubt, a short and doubtless a sharp lecture on manners.

Maybe this Yosemite kid wasn't so much to blame after all, for perhaps he had read in some of the life sketches of Mr. Roosevelt, or had heard some one say that he enjoyed being called "Teddy," and did not realize that since Mr. Roosevelt has been clothed in Presidental dignity that this familiar style of salutation is not considered the proper thing. But after that lecture the boy discovered his mistake and will not do it any more.

Some presidents would not have noticed an incident like that, or got angry with the boy who presumably didn't know any better, but Mr. Roosevelt isn't like other men in a good many things.

The negroes in and around Quindocquia, Md., are in high dudgeon, because they have lost a postoffice and a negro p. m. at one swipe. It was a new office. When the negro was appointed the white people kicked and asked the Republican Congressman how that happened. He threw the responsibility on the Republican committee, on whose endorsement he recommended the appointment. Then to placate the white voters he had the office discontinued, and now the black denizens are mad and say they can't see why the postoffice bosses stand by the darkey further South and turn him out in Maryland. There are a good many things they do not understand.

A sales girl in a New York store found a $20,000 pearl necklace, which Mrs. Colgate Hoyt lost about a week before. Mrs. Hoyt thought she lost it in one of the stores she had been in, but the girl found it in the gutter nearly covered with rubbish. Although various rewards of from $5,000 to $500 had been offered the finder, she got only $100, and her father is talking of suing for the other $400.

Like the Monroe Doctrine the injunction is expanding. A judge in Omaha last week issued an injunction against an organization of employers, forbidding them to interfere in certain things with their striking employes, and then another Omaha judge issued an anti-talk injunction against a female renter in a flat, whose volume of talk was so annoying to other renters that some of them threatened to move.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

— Wilson Times: Policeman Snakenburg has been discharged from the force because of neglect of duty in the recent awful occurrence in Wilson and Frank Felton is suspended for ten days.

— Raleigh Post: The capital stock of the Durham hosiery mill has been increased by the stockholders voting $100,000. This increase will be used in adding a two-story addition to the mill and in installing 400 new knitting machines.

— Raleigh News and Observer: Mrs. Maj. S. M. Finger died this (Tuesday) evening at 5:30 o'clock. She attended church this morning and was sitting on her porch apparently in good health, when she threw her hands up, exclaiming, "Oh, Lord!" and was dead.

— Newbern Journal: The farmers of this and other counties report an excess of dry weather, and predict that if there is no rain shortly the potato crop will be seriously injured. The drought has greatly retarded the setting of tobacco plants and the crop will of necessity be curtailed.

— Marion Democrat: The section of country in the vicinity of Eberman, N. C., is greatly stirred up over the find of gold, which assayers claim will pan not less than $20 per ton and probably more. The representative of an English Co. was here Wednesday, taking options on all the adjoining land and promises to have at least 200 men at work within six days and says that the prospects for gold are the best anywhere east of the Mississippi.

— Greensboro Record: Four poor crop years in succession is piling it on a little thick. Indications now are that this will be quite as bad as the three preceding years. Two months or more ago the prospect for wheat was most excellent, but it got wrong somewhere or somehow and it is said that scarcely half a crop will be made. Rust has made its appearance, caused by so much rain, and now for the want of rain corn will not sprout. Truly the farmer has a hard time.

Thomas a Becket.

In 1538, when Henry VIII. rooted up Thomas a Becket's grave and erased his name from the scroll of saints, he also ordered that all pictures, stained glass windows and frescoes bearing upon the life of this saint should be destroyed. In some churches where St. Thomas was held in special honor the law was evaded by superimposing another picture over the forbidden one. On the north wall of the church at South Newington, near Banbury, England, there is a fresco [illegible] of Christ's triumphal entry into Jerusalem. From the effects of the ruthless pump this fresco is gradually disappearing, and now through the colossal donkey on which our Lord is represented riding can be seen the figure of the murdered archbishop prone on the chancel steps. Gradually, possibly, the whole underlying fresco of the murder of St. Thomas at Canterbury will come into view, and it is evidently of far higher artistic merit than the hastily executed covering one.

THE BEER THAT MADE MILWAUKEE FAMOUS

A MISSOURI SNEEZE.

Samuel Motter, assistant prosecuting attorney in Buchanan, Mo., was fined the other day for sneezing, the justice believing the sneeze was an indication of contempt of court. The St. Joseph News describes the occurrence as follows; Attorney Motter, though he carries about the culture and polish of Yale and other alma maters in addition to the refinement of St. Joseph's best circles, persists in sneezing as did all our Missouri ancestors in pioneer days—just throws his head back and opens his mouth in an influenza smile, which is broken by lines of tender sadness just before the two ends meet at the back of his neck. Then he gathers in all the circumambient atmosphere and microbes and lets go like a fog horn, ending up with "ash hopper," as do the denizens of Big Creek even unto this day. It is not surprising that the court should assert its prerogative!

The Right Way to Boil Water.

"To boil water would seem to be a very simple thing," writes some one in the Boston Cooking School Magazine, "and yet the late Charles Delmonico used to say that very few people know how to do it. 'The secret is,' he said, 'in putting good fresh water into a kettle already quite warm, setting the water to boiling quickly and then taking it right off for use in tea, coffee or other drinks before it is spoiled. To let it steam and simmer and evaporate until the good water is in the atmosphere and only the lime and iron and dregs left in the kettle is what makes a great many people sick, and it is worse than no water at all.' For water boiled like this and flavored with a few drops of lemon juice Mr. Delmonico used to charge as much as for his best liquors, and he often recommended it to his customers and friends who complained of loss of appetite. It is worth trying."

Different View.

"You see," said the old locomotive engineer, "railroad officials don't look at things quite as the public does. On one of my runs a year ago I found a certain bridge swept away, and I had to back up about two miles to get orders. As I reached the station the division superintendent came out and demanded.

"What's the reason for all this?"

"Bridge over Maple river gone," says I.

"And why didn't you run your train into the river?"

"My fireman didn't want to get wet."

"Humph! Bounce him for blocking the road, and don't you make another such mistake unless you want a year's vacation."—Chicago News.

Swelling the Unsuccessful Banks.

A great many men have been left behind because of their listlessness, their easy going ways. They were too slow. Opportunities would not wait for them. They would have taken advantage of them, would have succeeded, if the chance had not hurried by so fast. If the opportunities had tarried awhile, had given them a chance to look them over and consult their friends or if they had only come back, these gentle people would now be on the heights instead of looking wistfully up from the foot of the mountain. But, alas, opportunities never return, and he who is not ready to seize them as they flit onward will have only regrets for his portion.

Siamese Reporting.

Siamese reporters are not quite so deft as our own specimens, says the London Globe, but they have a fine impressionistic touch which charms the jaded fancy. Here is an account of a murder from that happy land:

"Shooting outrage! Oh, fearful agony! Khoon Tong, one of Phya Song's staff, was on a mission to Lampoon, and on his return instantly shot dead by some miscreants, scoundrels. Oh, untimely death! Oh, fearful! All friends expressed their morne. The cowardice dog is still at large. Six soldiers and six policemen were at once dispatched."

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, May 19.—The cotton market opened firm at an advance of four to nine points under strong cables and renewed bull support. While at first, owing to the reactionary tendency at Liverpool, which market, after having sold up eleven and a half to thirteen and a half points on the old crop months declined to a level net three and a half to six points higher, to the outlook for heavy receipts and the expectation of a bearish weather report at midday, shorts were disposed to stand by their commitments, but they were entirely unable to withstand the aggressive buying of the bulls and prices were immediately rushed up to high levels for the season. May sold as high as 11.70c, July 11.36c, August 11.02 and September 9.73. Then realizing became more general, room longs turned for profits and prices were forced down point by point in the face of continued bull support and on the decline it became apparent that the room was looking for a scalp on the short side. But when the weekly report of the Weather Bureau was published at midday, showing a much less favorable condition than expected, the shorts were again completely routed and prices were sent up at a record rate. In ten minutes July had sold up from 11.17 to 11.24, August from 10.91 to 10.97, and September from 9.65 to 9.72. This rally seemed apparently to have exhausted the demand from shorts and was followed by another reactionary period during which trading became much less active. The decline was started by selling of July, said to originate with the leader of the New England clique, and as it progressed the selling movement was swollen by liquidation of the old crop months, while the new crop was maintained by covering. This movement culminated when a level about net one and five points lower had been attained on the Summer months and was followed just before the close by another spirited burst of trading. It was rumored that a certain Wall street interest prominent on the bull side early in the season was buying for an advance of a cent or more and this added to the general irregularity and feverishness. The new crop months were the strongest features in the late trade and at the close showed the greatest gains. May closed at 11.64, July at 11.28, August 10.95 and September at 9.78 with the general list net seven and thirty-one points higher. November scored the biggest advance, closing at 9.23 against 8.91 last night. Total sales futures estimated at 800,000 bales.

Hard to Even Hobble.

A Good Example of How Far Cases Have Gone in Wilmington.

Nothing is more dangerous, if neglected, than kidney disease. If allowed to run on, it attacks every organ and every part of the body. Here's a Wilmington case in point, in which a well known citizen points the short way out.

E. Poezolt, merchant tailor, of 8 South Front St., residing at 315 North Sixth street, says: "My wife used Doan's Kidney Pills and in her case they proved to be an effective remedy. She suffered with her ankles and could scarcely get down stairs in the morning. We thought it was rheumatism and her ankles would be all puffed up every morning so she could hardly bobble around. Since obtaining Doan's Kidney Pills at R. R. Bellamy's drug store and taking them she seems like another person. She is better in the morning, the swelling left her ankles and from the great relief she obtained we are only too glad to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to others."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

FLORENCE, S. C., Nov. 26, 1900.—I was first advised by our family physician in Charleston to use TEETHINA with our baby when he was but a very young infant, as a preventive of colic and to warm and sweeten the stomach. Later it was useful in teething troubles, and its effect has been found to be so very beneficial and so free from dangers that are consequent upon the use of drugs and soothing syrups, that we have come to regard it, after use with three children, as one of the necessities when there is a new baby in the house and until the teething troubles are over, and we take pleasure in recommending it to our friends instead of the horrid stuff that so many people use to keep their baby quiet. MODERN COLONIAL HOME.

Three Thousand Dollar Dwelling With Every Modern Convenience.

(Copyright, 1902, by Dennis & Gastmeyer, Architects, 289 Broadway, New York.)

We herewith present to our readers a special modern, up to date, low priced colonial home with every improvement and convenience. This house should not have less than a fifty foot lot of ground to give it a good appearance, and it should sit back from the building line not less than thirty feet. This plan, we are informed by the designers, has been used in many locations on account of the nice large rooms provided and its convenience in every other respect.

Under the main part of the building is a cellar, containing storeroom, coal bins and steam boiler, which heats the entire house. There is also a rear stairway from the yard to the cellar alongside of the rear stoop.

The frame is built of hemlock timber and lumber, with a balloon frame. The walls are sheathed with North Carolina boards and covered with two ply sheathing paper, beveled siding and shingles, as shown in elevation. The main roof is covered with black slate. The piazza and pantry roofs are covered with heavy coated tin plates.

The exterior woodwork is covered with one good coat of linseed oil and one good coat of lead and oil priming and is then finished with a heavy coat of white lead and zinc paint. The shingles are stained to correspond with the other colors.

The floors are laid with narrow North Carolina tongued and grooved pine flooring boards properly blind nailed and covered with two ply paper and lath left down until all the work has been completed. It is then removed, and the floors are filled with paste fillers, well rubbed and given two good coats of floor varnish.

The walls are covered with plaster boards and one good coat of patent plaster, brown coat and white sand, and finished up with trowel for tinting.

The trim on the first floor and staircase is of quartered oak and on the second floor of whitewood. The doors are five paneled of special patterns, as also is the trim, which has cabinet heads to all doors and windows. The woodwork is finished in natural wood, with paste fillers on hardwood and liquid fillers on soft wood, and two good coats of varnish properly rubbed down between the coats.

The interior walls and ceilings are tinted in various shades with cold water colors, and all the rooms have fancy paper borders to match the colors of side walls and ceilings. There are picture moldings on each floor to match the other woodwork.

The entire house is lighted by means of combination gas and electric light fixtures. There are electric bells from the outside doors to the kitchen halls and a call bell from the dining room to the kitchen; also an electric door opener from the second story hall and the dining room. The hardware is of fancy dark bronze.

This makes a very attractive and complete home, suitable for almost any location, and can be built for $3,000.

General Corbin's Report.

Since the publication of Adjutant General Corbin's report it has come to be known as "the wine, women and song report." It will be remembered that General Corbin discussed the canteen, commented adversely on the tendency of young officers to get married and recommended the instruction of soldiers in music, especially urging that they be taught regimental airs and songs.

Older Than Their Grandmother.

A marriage solemnized in Atlantic City provided John Philip Sousa, the famous bandmaster, with an eighteen-year-old mother-in-law, the father of Mrs. Sousa having been married to a girl of that age. Henry Bellis, the groom, is seventy-four, but is as spry as a college graduate. Two of Sousa's children are older than their grandmother.

Drinking Horns.

Nearly everything we eat and drink has been pronounced injurious by some authority or crank. And now it is declared that we should go back to our horn drinking cups because it has been shown that glass is attacked and partly disintegrated not only by acids, but by plain water.

Irregularity and Nervousness

This Testimony of 1,500,000 Cured Women Confirmed by MRS. EMILIE DANFORTH, 233 Thirty-Second Street, Chicago, Vice-President Woman's Indian Association.

CHICAGO, ILL., Sept. 29, 1902.

I feel it my duty to let my afflicted sisters know of the potency of Wine of Cardui for female troubles. It takes the place of a doctor in my family. I have had experience with different kinds of medicine but nothing I ever saw or heard of would compare with your medicine. It is an ideal home medicine and when doctors fail Wine of Cardui will cure. It cured me of irregularities and nervousness when I felt as if nothing I did would help me. People don't sympathize with those suffering with unstrung nerves. I want to thank you most heartily for what Wine of Cardui has done for me and mine. I am in perfect health now and it is all due to your medicine which is certainly without an equal. Emilie Danforth

It is women's nature to be patient. A nervous, irritative woman is always sick. The scolding of the housewife is generally the cry of distress of some suffering mother, racked with unstrung nerves caused by irregular menstruation, bearing down pains or some other form of female weakness that is making her not herself. Household cares never wring from the heart the cry of anguish that the torture of bearing down pains do.

It is female weakness that is killing so many mothers. It is sad to see sweet tempered and loving mothers becoming haggard, sickly, cross and nervous unlovely creatures when even their nearest relatives and dearest friends never know enough of the truth to give sympathy.

People do not understand female weakness and its power to crush a woman's life. Mrs. Danforth knows about it and she wrote this letter to show sick, tired, nervous and worn out women the way to health.

She has shown you that Wine of Cardui is the best and surest medicine to take to secure health. You owe it to your family and friends to secure health. You can have health by taking Wine of Cardui. Why not begin now? There is no better time. There is no surer way. Wine of Cardui imparts health and strength to the female organism. This relieves the nerves of strain and tension. This medicine eliminates bearing down pains. It banishes the last traces of irritation of the membranes and maintains regularity in the menstrual flow.

WINE of CARDUI

The Russian press censorship has forbidden the publication of the contents of the signals exchanged as farewell greetings between the German imperial yacht Hohenzollern and the Russian Standard on the occasion of the recent meeting between the czar and the kaiser.

It has now been ascertained that the kaiser's signal ran thus: "The lord of the western seas sends a farewell greeting to the lord of the eastern seas." The czar, in schoolgirl style, replied, "Eternal friendship." It is not easy to see where the danger could come in from giving publicity to these high flown compliments, but since the Russian censor has laid them under ban there must be something wrong of course from his point of view.—Leslie's Weekly.

A Startling Test.

To save a life Dr. T. G. Merritt, of No. Mehoopany, Pa., made a startling test, resulting in a wonderful cure. He writes: "A patient was attacked with violent hemorrhages, caused by ulceration of the stomach. I had often found Electric Bitters excellent for Acute Stomach and Liver troubles, so I prescribed them. The patient gained from the first, and has not had an attack in fourteen months." Electric Bitters are positively guaranted for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Constipation and Kidney troubles. Try them. Only 50c, at R. R. BELLAMY'S drug store. †

WILMINGTON, N. C.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, MAY 20.

FIGHTING FILIPINO FANATICS.

Lieut. Walker and Two Privates of the Constabulary Killed—The Situation Regarded as Serious.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

MANILA, May 19.—Lieutenant Walker, of the constabulary, who yesterday was reported missing after the recent fighting in the Island of Cebu, was, it became known to-day, killed by a superior force of fanatics which surrounded the lieutenant's party. Two privates of the constabulary were also killed and three were captured. Two of these prisoners were murdered. One of them escaped.

The situation in some of the districts of Cebu is regarded as serious. It is reported that the total of the bands of insurgents in the field exceeds 1,500. Col. Taylor, of the constabulary, reports that the enemy's forces are dispersing. He says the constabulary is capable of suppressing the disorders and predicts an improvement in the situation. It is believed here that the adoption of energetic measures will be necessary to suppress the disturbances.

William Balton, formerly a private in the Fifteenth cavalry, is the name of the cavalryman who alone checked the second rush of the insurgents at Suclatan, Island of Mindanao, May 15th and defended the American dead and wounded until relieved.

It was at Suclatan that Captain Clough Overton and Private Harry Noyes were killed and Private Harlow was wounded by fifty insurgent prisoners whom they were guarding. The fourth member of the party was William Balton, who was not wounded.

WEATHER BUREAU'S REPORT.

Complaint Throughout the Cotton Belt of Unfavorable Effects of Low Temperatures—Crop Generally Late.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—The weekly crop bulletin of the Weather Bureau says:

All northern and central districts east of the Rocky Mountains experienced highly favorable temperatures during the week ending May 18th, the central valleys, lake region and New England receiving ample and much needed warmth, while in the Southern States it was too cool for favorable growth.

There is general complaint throughout the cotton belt of the unfavorable effects of low temperatures on cotton. Good stands, as a rule, are reported in the central district, but in the eastern and western portions the stands are irregular, and much replanting is necessary. The crop is generally late and warmth and sunshine are much needed.

Considerable tobacco has been transplanted in Tennessee and Western Kentucky, but elsewhere there has been no opportunity for setting, owing to dryness. Plants are generally plentiful, but are now overgrown in some States.

RUSSIA AND MANCHURIA.

United States Will Insist Upon Commercial Privileges for Its Citizens.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Regardless of the outcome of the present negotiations respecting the political domination of Manchuria, it can be stated that this government is prepared to insist to the end upon commercial privileges for United States merchants in Manchuria equal to those enjoyed by the merchants of other nations, Russia included. The State Department has had pledges from Russia that even in the event of Manchuria passing under Russian control, our commerce and trade privileges should not suffer, and it will hold that our commerce would suffer if Russian goods can enter Manchuria free while United States goods are forced to pay duty. This attitude of the State Department will, it is believed, go far towards reassuring the Southern cotton interests, which have become alarmed at the possible loss of their best market.

SLOT MACHINES BURNED.

Thirteen Hundred, Valued at $125,000, Publicly Destroyed in Philadelphia.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

PHILADELPHIA, May 19.—Thirteen hundred slot gambling machines, valued at about $125,000, were publicly burned to-day by order of Director of Public Safety Smyth. Seven hundred of the machines were captured in raids conducted by the Law and Order Society and six hundred were confiscated by the police authorities. The raids have extended over a period of five months. Director Smyth has in his custody 250 pounds of nickels and pennies which have not been counted. Secretary Gibboney, of the Law and Order Society, has nearly $1,600 taken from the machines captured by his agents. This money will be turned over to the city treasurer. During the burning of the machines two fire companies safeguarded the surrounding property.

TRAIN WRECK ON THE SOUTHERN R. R.

Passenger No. 136, from Greensboro to Goldsboro, N. C., Ditched Near Raleigh.

NINE PEOPLE WERE INJURED.

Two of Injured Seriously Hurt—All Sent to Rex Hospital—Every Car Turned Completely Over—The Wreck Caused by Spreading Rails.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

RALEIGH, May 19.—Nine people were injured in a wreck on the Southern Railway, a mile and a half southeast of this city this afternoon at 5 o'clock. Those whose hurts are regarded as serious are: Elvin Fleming, of Wilson, N. C., probably injured internally, and State Representative H. B. Parker, of Wayne, cut and bruised about the head and back injured. The others received only superficial cuts and bruises. The train, No. 136, left here over half an hour late.

The wreck occurred at a curve, and is thought to have been caused by the spreading of rails. Every car was ditched, turning completely over, so that they now lie top downward. The coupling broke and the engine remained upon the ties. The track is considerably torn up and the work of clearing it for traffic will probably take all night.

Among those on board the train were: Hon. Frank Daniels and Mary Cleves Daniels, his little daughter of Goldsboro, and Josephus and Worth Daniels, sons of Hon. Josephus Daniels, editor of the News and Observer, of this city.

[Special Star Telegram.]

RALEIGH, N. C., May 19.—A frightful wreck occurred about a mile east of Raleigh soon after 5 o'clock this afternoon on the Southern railroad, when in some as yet unaccountable way the engine of No. 136 east-bound passenger train, from Greensboro to Goldsboro, left the rail, followed by the three passenger and one mail car, the cars rolling down a twenty-five foot embankment, landing upside down more than fifty feet from the track. Strange to say, not a single one of fifty or more passengers and train men was killed. However, thirteen were injured; none of them it is thought fatally. The injured are Mrs. J. C. Ellington, Raleigh, fractured shoulder, dislocated hip; W. T. Dortch, Goldsboro, contusion of back, mashed fingers; J. T. Bland, Louisburg, laceration of right cheek, contusion of neck; H. B. Parker, Jr., Goldsboro, back badly wrenched, contusion of the face; W. D. P. Sharp, Wilson, scalp wound, contusion of left side and arm; E. L. Fleming, Wilson, contusion of left side, elbow bruised; R. R. Burwell, colored mail clerk, Raleigh, right shoulder sprained; Mrs. Mary Hobby, Garner, collar bone fractured, Miss Addie Hobby, right shoulder sprained; W. H. Smith, Goldsboro, painful scalp wound; L. W. Hullinger, back and shoulders sprained. Nearly all the injured are in Rex hospital. The most serious are: H. B. Parker, Jr., and J. T. Bland, though physicians think neither of them will die. Parker represented Wayne county in the last Legislature. The track for two hundred yards or more is torn up. The engine stuck to the track through it all and stopped just this side of the bridge across Walnut creek. Engineer Ripple stuck to his engine. Conductor Coble was slightly injured. The train was making probably fifty miles an hour down grade and going around a slight curve.

TULLOCH REPLIES TO PAYNE.

Touching Affairs in the Postal Service in Porto Rico—Tabooed Accounts—An Ingenious Scheme.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Ex-Cashier Tulloch was in Washington to-day and in an interview said:

"I notice that Mr. Payne observes that I could know nothing more about the postal service in Porto Rico than about the postal service in Chicago. Perhaps Mr. Payne is not aware that, as cashier of the Washington City post office, no postmaster there could secure even a box of matches that I did not pay for. Money for the salaries of the postmasters, clerks, carriers, route men and other employes for every office in the island passed through my hands and the postmaster of Washington city was responsible on his bond for the proper disbursement of it."

Touching the question of expenses for individuals which auditing officers refused to pass, Mr. Tulloch said:

"I know that in some cases where these men came in with expenses which the accounting officers of the treasury would not pass, a very ingenious scheme was devised to help them out. By direction of First Assistant Heath, the names of these employes would be ordered kept on the pays rolls for a time, long enough to make sufficient money in salary to equal the tabooed accounts. I know in one case a favorite had come back to Washington and his name had been dropped from the rolls. He had been drawing pay at the rate of $1,200 a year, but it was found that some of his expenses would not pass the auditing offices. Forthwith, an order came to me to put him on the rolls at $1,400. He performed no additional work, but was paid a salary till the deficit was made up. In other words the government was made to pay itself."

POOL ROOM RAIDED.

Placed Carried by Assault and Sixty-two Men Made Prisoners.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, May 19.—Police Inspector Elbert O. Smith headed a big raid on an alleged pool room in Sixth avenue near Third street to-day. The place was carried by assault by policemen armed with sledge hammers, axes and crow-bars, but the raid was chiefly remarkable for the fact that every one of the sixty-two men found in the place were made prisoners, as well as one man who was arrested later. All were charged with aiding and abetting a pool room. The police have hitherto made a practice of only locking up the men for whom they held warrants, allowing the others to go after careful scrutiny.

Daniel M. O'Driscoll, for thirty years manager of the Western Union Telegraph Company in Charleston, S. C., died there yesterday, in his 66th year. He was born in Bantry, County Cork, Ireland, and was probably the oldest of the war telegraphers this side of the Potomac.

THE KISCHINEFF MASSACRE.

Resolutions Adopted at Various Meetings Receiving Careful Consideration from Secretary of State Hay.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Some of the resolutions adopted last Sunday by various mass meetings and organizations respecting the Kischineff massacre reached Secretary Hay to-day. They will all receive careful consideration, and it may be that some way will be found, though none is now clear, by which the substance of these resolutions can be communicated to the Russian government as an evidence of the feeling aroused in the United States. It is both a difficult and delicate task to approach a nation, and especially one so autocratic as Russia, on the subject of internal administration where it is not alleged that direct interests of the complainant are involved. Nations reserve for themselves in such cases the right to absolutely refuse to receive from another communications in the nature of a criticism, and no matter how desirous the State Department might be of mitigating the lot of the Jews in Bessarabia, it could not afford to run the risk of receiving a severe snub. But it can be said that the department is keeping in close touch with its agents in Russia and is resolved to lose no opportunity to remind the Russian government, when it can properly do so, of the strong sympathetic interest the people of the United States feel in the welfare of the Jews.

Resented by Russia.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 19.—The Russian government has received no representations from the government of the United States in regard to the Kischineff massacres, beyond an inquiry, through Ambassador McCormick several days ago, whether the money and supplies which were being offered from all parts of America for the sufferers would be acceptable to the Russian government. The Foreign Office replied that while it greatly appreciated the American generosity, there was no need of relief, as the wants of the inhabitants of Kischineff were being looked after.

There is no doubt that while the Russian officials much regret the Kischineff massacres, they equally resent what they call the "anti-Russian agitation in America," which they claim is "fomented by the influential English press."

The report that Lieutenant General Raaben, governor of Kischineff, Bessarabia, where the massacre of the Jews occurred a month ago, had been dismissed by the Czar, is confirmed. The imperial ukase dismissing the general is dated May 17th.

NEW YORK STRIKE TROUBLE.

Police Had Several Encounters With Striking Italians—Officers Roughly Handled in One Instance.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, May 19.—Clashes between police and striking Italians took place at several points along the line of the subway to-day. The blue coats on picket duty along the trench and the reserves at the station houses were called upon to suppress a dozen fights caused by the attempts of the striking excavators to intimidate their countrymen who tried to return to work.

At Seventy-second street and Columbus avenue a young Italian was set upon by a crowd of ten strikers. Merchants, messenger boys and laborers passing at the time went to the lad's assistance, and a general melee was in progress when the police arrived. The police made three prisoners. About two thousand men, or 50 per cent. of the required number, are now at work on the subway.

A gang of Italian strikers to-day tried to induce men at work on a church at West Hoboken, N. J., to quit. The men refused and the strikers then attempted to mob them. A squad of police attempted to disperse the strikers and in the fight which followed the officers were roughly handled. They eventually succeeded in arresting seven of the disturbers. Revolvers and knives were used, but no one was seriously hurt, although a policeman received a slight stab wound in the abdomen.

DISASTROUS FIRE.

Fourteen Buildings in the Town of Maxmeadows Burned—Loss $40,000.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ROANOKE, VA., May 19—A special from Wytheville, Va., says the town of Maxmeadows, situated on the main line of the Norfolk and Western railway, in Wythe county, fifty miles west of Roanoke, suffered greatly by fire this afternoon when fourteen buildings went up in smoke. The fire originated in a stable and was caused by some one smoking. The total loss will reach $40,000 or $50,000 and is partially covered by insurance.

WHITE MAN LYNCHED.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

VALDOSTA, GA., May 19.—A special from Madison, Fla., says that a mob entered that city last night, secured the keys to the jail from the night watchman, took out Washington Jarvis, a white man, and lynched him. Jarvis was carried some distance from the city, tied to a tree and shot to death. He was accused of murdering his cousin, John Waldrop. The night watchman was blindfolded and held captive until the mob finished its work.

VETERANS' REUNION FORMALLY OPENED.

In the Great Auditorium on the Fair Grounds at the City of New Orleans.

ILLNESS OF GEN. GORDON.

Hundreds of Beautiful Women on Platform—Mrs. Stonewall Jackson Presented—Speeches of Welcome—Gen. Gordon's Address.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW ORLEANS, May 19.—The thirteenth annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans was opened in the great Auditorium at the Fair grounds to-day at noon. The weather was perfect and all the arrangements by the local entertainment committee were successful.

There were thousands of veteran soldiers, hundreds of beautiful women, and above and around and on every hand a profusion of fluttering flags and waving streamers. There was martial music without limit and enthusiasm unbounded. Over the beautiful, successful day there was but a single shadow, and that promises to disappear before the morning. This was the the commander-in-chief of the organization. He was not well when he left his hotel for the auditorium and has not been in his usual health for several days. His strength was not in reality sufficient for the ordeal to which he subjected himself, and before the close of the opening session he was a greatly wearied man. Nothing but his grim fighting spirit carried him through the day without something akin to collapse. He was not able to attend the afternoon session at the auditorium, and remained quietly in his room at the hotel, receiving no visitors. His condition is in no manner serious, but it is possible that he may not be able to preside at all the sessions at the auditorium between now and Friday noon. He expects, however, to be present to-morrow.

When the hour for opening the convention arrived the platform was crowded with fair women and men whose names are household words throughout the South. General Gordon was delayed somewhat in reaching the grounds and his entrance into the hall was an ovation. Cheer after cheer rang through the building as he came rapidly down the aisle leaning on the arm of Adjutant General Mickle. He was surrounded instantly by a group of friends as he reached the rostrum and for a time was unable to reach his chair.

No sooner was he seated than a fair young woman, Miss Tarlton, of Waco, Texas, approached and bending down, kissed the general. He sprang quickly to his feet to acknowledge the honor with repeated bows.

Formal Proceedings.

General J. B. Lavert, commander of the Louisiana division of the Confederate Veterans, called the assembly to order and introduced the chaplain-general, Rev. J. William Jones, who delivered an eloquent invocation. Then in succession came speeches of welcome to the veterans from Paul Capedeville, Mayor of New Orleans; Loys Charbournet, who spoke for the local organization of the Sons of Veterans; Mrs. Wm. J. Beachan, representing the Confederate Southern Memorial Association, and Governor W. W. Heard, who spoke for the people of the State of Louisiana. After a few opening words of welcome, the Governor said:

"Veterans, the outcome of the struggle that you carried on for four long years against the most powerful forces and armaments that the world has yet seen in no manner or sense can obscure the glory and fame that you won for Dixie's Land. With a total enlistment of six hundred thousand men you confronted two millions eight hundred thousand. Of these, in round numbers, five hundred thousand were of foreign birth, and had Europe been in formal alliance with the North it could scarcely have been expected to send more than this number of its organized soldiery for its quota in such a coalition. Considering the two hundred thousand negro soldiers, the five hundred thousand foreign born soldiers and the two millions one hundred thousand native Americans, it is not extravagant to say that the six hundred thousand Confederate veterans confronted a coalition of America, Europe and Africa.

"When we consider these indisputable facts, we cannot but have commiseration for the person who would seek to detract from the unparalleled resistance made by the armies in gray, by impugning the motives by which they were impelled to make this truly legendary defence of their homes and constitutional rights as they construed these rights to be found."

The governor concluded his address by repeating the welcome of the people of Louisiana.

E. B. Kruttschnitt of New Orleans, chairman of the local executive committee in charge of all the arrangements for the reunion, then made a most happy address.

Gordon's Address.

As General Gordon rose to reply he was enthusiastically cheered. His address was as follows:

"To my thought it is most fitting that this proud and patriotic organization should again meet in this historic city which gave it birth. The meeting of such men as you welcome today, whose past deeds will remain forever an inspiration to American valor and to future sacrifices for constitutional freedom, is an auspicious event in the country's history, whenever and wherever it may occur; but how peculiarly inspiring is this reunion in Louisiana on this 100th anniversary of her new birth into governmental alliance with American States. A Roman eye would have discovered in a meeting of such men, at such time, an omen of good to the cause of liberty; and American eyes should see in it nothing but good to the whole republic. It must of necessity be beneficent and only beneficent. We will not indulge on this centennial day, this political millenial morning—nor at other times, in any bitterness. We feel none. We pity those who did. We have long since drawn the curtain of oblivion over the regretful and unseemly things of the past, and we cherish as Americans the valor and noble deeds of both armies and of all sections. We are satisfied with our record; and the power that would attempt to make us blush for it would be both stupid and blind. We are heirs, joint heirs, with the Republic's inheritance of freedom left by our sires. We are proud of all the past. Moreover we are now facing a future pregnant with tremendous possibilities; but we face it with strength of hope and assurance, born of an unswerving purpose, to discharge our every duty to all races and to the whole country. We are growing old; but we still stand firmly on the narrow strip of land which separates us from a boundless ocean. And as we go hence we will calmly drop our manlies on the shoulders of our sons, who will worthily wear them; and in no crisis of the Republic, whether in forum or field, will they be found wanting."

At the conclusion of General Gordon's address he turned to greet a lady gowned in black, who had come to the front of the rostrum during the latter portion of his address. Then, leading her to the front of the platform he said:

"It was my fortune, and I will never cease to thank God that it was my fortune, to follow, to know well, and to love Stonewall Jackson. He is not here, but the best half of him is here in the person of his wife. Comrades, I present to you

Mrs. Stonewall Jackson."

"To your feet boys, to your feet," was the cry of a veteran in the Tennessee delegation; but swift as came his cry it came too late. The "boys" were up, every man of them, and in the wild cheers that swept the hall, the fair-faced lady from Virginia was made to know once more how Southern love remembers.

"And here's a young Jackson," called out the general, leading forward a very pretty girl, Miss Julia Jackson Christian, the granddaughter of the famous soldier. As he spoke he kissed her, and the cheers were redoubled for the general and the girl.

Judge Reagan.

Judge Reagan, the sole surviving member of the Davis cabinet, then spoke from one portion of the rostrum, while numbers of the old soldiers threw themselves upon General Gordon at the other end. The reception was smothering Mr. Reagan's voice and General Gordon at the same time, when General S. D. Lee, interfered with the gavel, beseeching the crowd to be silent, and to allow General Gordon to rest.

Mr. Reagan spoke but briefly and after this an adjournment was taken until afternoon. Immediately the mobbing of General Gordon was resumed with redoubled energy. One old soldier, intoxicated by his enthusiasm, sank on his knees before the general and would have hugged him had not the by-standers interfered.

The oration of Judge Rogers consumed the entire afternoon session. His address, which was remarkably well delivered, was a brilliant success.

The convention will meet at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning.

The Sons of Veterans met at noon in the Crescent Theatre, but transacted no business beyond listening to a number of welcoming addresses and appointing various committees. The chief feature of the evening was the ball given by the Washington Artillery at their armory. It was a select affair in honor of the visiting sponsors and maids of honor, and was a distinct social success.

NEW TRIAL TO NEGRO CRIMINAL.

Supreme Court Hands Down an Opinion in Seaboard Murder Case.

[Special Star Telegram.]

RALEIGH, N. C., May 19.—The Supreme Court to-day handed down an opinion granting a new trial to Joe Cole, Sr., colored, for the killing of Capt. Sievers, of Portsmouth, Sept. 29th, on the Seaboard Air Line, near Middleburg. The new trial is on the ground that the Judge should have charged the jury that there was no evidence of murder in the first degree. Chief Justice Clark filed a dissenting opinion declaring that he viewed with alarm the consequences of the court's opinion. Justice Connor in the court's opinion replies that law is not an expression of opinions at variance with public sentiment.

While the ticket agent of the East Coast Line at St. Augustine, Florida, was at breakfast, yesterday morning, the office was broken into by a burglar who forced open the cash drawer and took its contents, amounting to $113.
